

2021 China Copper Week
The 19th China International Copper Forum

Online events

The 14th Five-year Plan period is a key period for China to realize a well-off society in an all-round way to the basic realization of socialist modernization. It is also a breakthrough period for copper industry to move towards a new era of high-quality coordinated upgrading and development. Copper industry is still faced with multiple challenges, such as the acceleration of industrial breakthrough shift, structural adjustment, technological upgrading and continuous optimization.

In order to continue to explore the new development of global copper industry and the upgrade of China's copper industry in the breakthrough period of the new era, China Nonferrous Metals Industry Association (CNIA) will hold the "2021 China Copper Week and the 19th China International Copper Forum" in Nanchang, Jiangxi Province on November 23 to 26, 2021. At the same time, copper CEO summit will be held by CNIA. The theme is "New era New momentum New pattern". The Forum is hosted by CNIA, co-hosted by Jiangxi Copper Corporation Limited and organized by Beijing Antaike Information Co., Ltd.

The Forum offers a mixture of keynote speeches, expert discussions, and spot discussions. It is a perfect opportunity to meet and learn from industry professionals. Every year, the Forum attracts delegates from miners, refineries, smelters, exchanges, manufacturers, downstream consuming sectors, covering the full chain.
